THE STUDENT NEWS MEDIUM AND THE ORGAN OF STUDENT OPINION

S.G.A. TAKES A TRIP

The S.G.A. members present at the Chensiqut Hill Conference split up into three groups. The Constitution Committee, Parliamentary Committee and the Agenda and Budget Committee.

The Constitution Committee amended the present S.G.A. constitution; the main revisions were the proposal that the President and Vice President of the S.G.A. will be elected by the entire student body rather than by the representatives and the power of recall of any S.G.A. representative shall be granted to the students on the basis of a petition signed by forty per cent of the student body, and a majority vote.

The Parliamentary Committee was responsible for aquainting the representatives with Rogers Rules of Parliamentary Procedure, now being employed at all S.G.A. meetings. This committee also proposed and set up the constitution for a disciplinary court comprised of the Dean of Student Affairs, the Dean of Men or Women, two male and one female member of the Sophomore and Freshman classes. This court will represent the final appeal within the student body. The jurisdiction of the court will cover all minor infringements on campus and all major infringements passed on from the Inter-Dorm Council according to the Student Handbook.

The Agenda and Budget Committee worked on setting up the S.G.A. program for the coming academic year and allocating the funds. Several new committees were set up under this division, including the Facts and Answers Committee to recieve questions from the students, check all possible sources for concise, definite answers and report the results to the students. In connection with this, special gripe sessions will be set up, and a suggestion box put up in the Student Center.

In the plans for the year's agenda, several proposals were made. First, a semi-formal dinner dance sponsored by the S.G.A. - Bingo will be continued, being held monthly - the most original new idea initiated was the suggestion of a Regatta Day, for sports activities open to the entire school; if the response is enthusiastic enough, this may be expanded to a Regatta week-end.

Sigma Beta Bring Soul To Leo

Next week on November 18, the brothers of Sigma Beta are to present Saint Leo's first soul spectacular featuring LEWIS CLARK, The LOVELLS, and the BLUE NOTES.

Soul is a work that has many meanings. In the pop world of today it is an intensly dramatic preformance by a singer, projected with such feeling that it reaches out and moves the listener. We are quite sure that LEWIS CLARK will give Saint Leo just such a performance.

Clark represents SOUL, the pure negro soul. Lewis Clark has long been a favorite on the Florida scene. This is witnessed by an extended stay at Dino's in Tampa. His success has not been limited to just the Florida area. He has been featured at such places as the "Apollo" theater in New York City. One of his recent hits "Dog ain't a man's best freind" has worked it's way into the top forty tunes in Florida "Green Power", another Clark record, will soon be released nationally.

The Blue Notes are primarily a rythmn and blues group. They have attained widespread popularity at places such as Yale, Harvard, Wesleyen; and numerous schools in the big ten.

Their last engagement in Florida was for TKE fraternity at the University of Florida. They are currently in Florida to record with Lewis Clark. The Lovells, the third part of our "soul spectacular", have traveled extensively with the Motown Revue. They are also releasing a new recording later on this month. The program will call for continuous music from 8:00 till 12:30.

Our main desire is to bring first class entertainment to Saint Leo. In doing this, we hope to set a precident which other groups on campus will follow.

Administrative Change New Dean and Upgrade of Professional Program

Two signifigant changes in the Administrative structure of Saint Leo College were announced yesterday.

Dr. Robert J. Marsh was named Dean of the college and Saint Leo's professional program was given a status equal in rank to it's arts and science programs.

The Rev. Stephen Hermann, O.S.B., president, said the steps were taken to enhance Saint Leo's prospects of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools next December.

Prior to this year, a college was required to graduate three classes before it became eligible for accreditation. Changes voted in the last general session of the association made accreditation possible for Saint Leo this year. The college has already been granted Early Recognition as a candidate for admission.

Father Stephen said the revamping of Saint Leo's professional program was in line with current trends nationally to provide greater depths for teacher education. The new program, directed by Dr. Clara Olson, dean-emeritus, upgrades the Institute for Creative Teaching which she founded.

HELP! I'm Being Held HOSTAGE

the time: the present
the place: a house of prostitution.
the people: a cast of about twenty two students, staff and freinds.

"The Hostage", a play by Brendan Behan. is under the direction of Mr. N. Blaisdell. The scenery will be handled by Mr. Geiger and crew.

The play should be a great success considering that it has music, dance, comedy and drama. It is considered to be a fine play and has been enjoyed by many. The people involved have put much time into it and some of the cast has written their own lyrics to a few songs which should prove something, if not interesting.

The play will run the 29 - 30 of November and the first and second of December. The cost will be .25¢ for students and $1.00 for non Saint Leo folk.

FROSH NET $90

Larry Soracco, Freshman Class treasurer, reports that the Freshman dance, held on November 3 in the McDonald Student Center was an outstanding social and financial success.

With a clear profit of $90.00, the Freshman Class would like to extend their gratitude to the students that helped make this possible.

WE ARE ONE OF FIVE

A week ago Saturday the Executive Committee attended the Circle K Convention in Orlando. Our representatives; Samuel Caprari, John Dux, Wade Sanders, Pierre Lafitte, and Father Fidelis attended workshops which proved very helpful. These workshops taught our new leaders how to run meetings, set up activities, and organize our budget.

Last Tuesday, we were fortunate enough to have four distinguished members of the Kiwanis Club of Dade City attend our weekly meeting. Lt. Governor Mel Hanson gave a short speech. Accompanying Mr. Hanson were Mr. Otto Weitzenkorn, Mr. Lawrence Puckett, Mr. Joe Cullera and Mr. Charles Corbin.

In closing I would like to mention something that John Dux told me about the convention as it pertains to Saint Leo. He said that there are 34 Circle K Clubs on the college level in Florida; 29 are on the Jr. College level. 5 are four year coleges. We are one of them. He also added that this could be a way to get more students to Saint Leo, through this Circle K Club and its activities with the surrounding communities.

A Kappa Theta First: Study Each Teacher

Undoubtly the only way for better grades in the teacher. As the old saying go's if you can't fight "em, join em". Therefore learn how to work with your teacher.

Working with a teacher is not necessarily brown-nosing. You have to work with people all of your life. so you better start while you have a chance.

Here are a few hints to look for wnen studying each teacher.

What part of the course does he like best? What part does he like least?

Watchout for the small points that your teacher spends a lot of time on--- he likes those points.. They may be on a test. Does he like arguments in the classroom? (Not boxing matches of course, but an intelligent discussion on different problems.) Some teachers don't, it may be best to keep your mouth shut. Don't irritate him.

Find out about your teacher from students who have already had him. Find out what kind of test he gives, essay questions, true and false, multiple choice or the like. What kind of answere does he like? Good understanding of the main idea? Tiny details? You'll have to adjust your studying to his tests.

Does your teacher have his good days and bad days? Remember, Mondays are just as hard on teachers as they are on you.

Make an appointment with your teacher. It can be helpful, but be sure to have something specific that you want to talk over; he may not have time for just small talk.

FUZZ FIZZ

The annual Gopher (land tortoise) races sponsored by the San Antonio JAYCEES over the weekend, held a number of surprises. Out of the 132 entries. CULLIGAN MA'AM and FERN were favorites in their classes. The first surprise came when the Florida Highway Patrol's FUZZ beat CULLIGAN MA'AM and all other comers in commercial division.

Then John Gambill's BAD NEWS defeated FERN and the other opponets in the privately sopnsored class. The feature event of the day followed 14 neat races and two semi-finals and found BAD NEWS pitted against the FUZZ. The high powered FUZZ proved to be a fizz and was no match for BAD NEWS, who blazed across the finish line of the 48 foot track in a record 34 seconds.

BAD NEWS does indeed travel fast.

Dear Abbet

Frank Burke & Ken Habershon

Dear Abbet,

I am an addict. I'm writing this letter with hopes that it might deter any of your students who have started down that long road of narcotic addiction, which terminates in self destruction.

When I was thirteen, I started popping pumpkin seeds. I could hardly wait for recess to come so I could slip behind the swings and get turned on. This innocent habit was followed by a period of new car sniffing, a somewhat dangerous task when you consider the cars were still moving. Unfortunately, this kick didn't last long, so at the age of fifteen, I started smoking dried cranberry shells and dandelion petals. But even this euphoric state didn't last for long, and I sank into a world of depression followed by long periods of irritability. Seeking a way out, I turned to B. A.M., which is a combination of Bayer aspirin, Anasin and Midol. It's hal lucinatory effects transcended me from reality for a time, but the return was hardly worth the trip. In desperation at the age of twenty, I sought the ultimate in satisfaction by mainlining COAK (Coka Cola syrup, that is). But this developed into a 50¢ a day habit, forcing me to degrade myself by stealing and looting, until finally I was caught.

Now I'm in jail and waiting for the day I'll be out on the street "shooting it up" again. Don't let this life of hell happen to you!

BENNIE

Dear BENNIE,

Thanketh thee for thy letter. It speaketh the truth of the evils of Utopian effects. And so I say, if one wishes to escape reality, let us legalize the smoking of monks bread.

Dear Abbet,

Did you give so that others may live?

About two weeks ago I eagerly signed the form pledging to give a pint of my blood. Little did I then understand the consequences. involved, for as soon as my freinds heard the news, they immediately told me of their hair-raising experiences when they gave last year.

One of my buddies who is taking pre-law told me that little piece of paper I signed was a contract willing my body to science if "anything happens" during the "draining". Another freind said that the nurse who pricks your finger must be a sadist because she smiled and broke into a blood curdling laugh when she did it to him. Next, they lead you into their chamber of horrors, where a nurse with hairy knuckles and a tatoo on her forearm that reads U.S.M.C. directs you to lie down and roll up your sleeve. One of my chums said they took his blood pressure and temperature to be sure he was still alive after they noticed his "cold feet" and pale white complexion. Naturally, he had fainted when he saw the size of the needle they were going to put in his arm. When he awoke, he swears he saw someone in a black cape with long fangs talking to the nurse in a soft Transylvanian accent. This could not be confirmed due to the fact that he ran from the room screaming with a plastic bag dragging behind him.

You can understand that when my number came up I was scared to death. However much to my surprise, I found the experience to be very rewarding with a minimum of pain and I think more students should give of themselves to help others.

But, about that guy in the black cape.....

R.H. Positive

Dear R.H.,

Though art truly a Good Samaritan and many students should follow thy example. I say to thee that I did give, but my offering was rejected for all that flowed from my veins was ice-water.

Psyc Club

There is a new and worthwhile organization on campus--the Psychology Club. The members intend to encourage and stimulate the interests of the students at Saint Leo College in the field of psychology and also to encourage an atmosphere that is conducive to scholastic achievement. We are also planning to have guest speakers and participate in other functions which may be of psychological interest.

The club is aspiring to attain membership in Psi Chi, a National Honor Society in Psychology, which requires the members to be in the upper third of their classes. At present, our requirements merely involve an interest in psychology, or related fields, and a willingness to actively participate.

Golf Team Opens Dec. 1

Coach Brother Jerome and his veteren golf squad are now preparing for the 1968 season on various courses in the area.

The team assembles for the Quail Hollow Open tomorrow and the Plantation Amateur Open on December 1.

Jim Gleason leads the linkmen in the pre-season standings with a one over par 72. Gleason, who finished third in last year's Plantation Open, is considered to be the best prospect by the energetic coach.

Last season's statistics include a respectable 8-3 record in dual meets and a fourteenth place finsh out of 36 entries in the Miami Invitational, the latter clinching fifth spot on the allFlorida team chart.

"Aside from the putting problems of a few of the boys, things are running smoothly and we'll have the squad down to 10 men for the 54 hole Florida Inter-collegiate Tournament," said Brother Jerome, who is also practicing to improve his own game.

The season opens in January with a team of six staters and four standbys.

Phi Theta Chi Wins Big One

It was Sunday afternoon November the 5th, a perfect day for a football game. Alpha Sigma Chi met Phi Theta Chi. The kickoff was at 2:00p.m. and everyone knew it was "The Battle of the Chi." It was a football game fought as hard as Notre Dame, Michigan State, but Sunday there was a victor, Phi Theta Chi. The first half was tough and rugged. A fight to no avail it stood, at half time as it started Phi Theta Chi 0, Alpha Sigma Chi 0.

Now it was half time, a rest but don't relax.

The second half was dominated by the fired up "Big Red". Knowing who was behind them all the way, Phi Theta Chi was victorious by a score of 8 to0. It wasn't untill the third quarter that Bobby Fair Found Lou Doler in the end zone and threw to him for the score. The Pete Longo added two more touchdowns to the score. With 1"45 remaining in the game Alpha Sigma Chi chanced for scoring were ruined when Brian Conlon picked off a pass. Phi Theta Chi merely ran out the clock and walked home with the trophy.

With football season at a close, Phi Theta Chi is looking forward to basketball season. With many promising new prospects Phi Theta Chi hopes to retain their place at the top.

ON SPORTS

by Tom Truelson

The National basketball Association got under way a few weeks ago and the mini-dynasty which the Philadelphia 76ers started a year ago, when they replaced the Boston Celtics as the world champions, looks safe for another season.

New York, a team with young talent, is not yet ready to replace Boston as the No. 2 team in the East. In the West, the title is up for grabs. San Francisco has the best center in basketball in Nate Thurmond, but without Rick Barry, they will have trouble retaining their title. As long as West and Baylor remain healthy, Los Angles will be close to the top. St. Louis has no super-stars, but they do have great balance and depth, and the best chance at the title.

Along with the established super-stars, a group of outstanding rookies led by Jim Walker, Walt Frazier, Earl Monroe and Bill Bradley, who will make his pro debut with the Knicks in January, will give the N.B.A. its most exciting season ever.

A few years ago, Wilt Chamberlain set a N.B.A. record by scoring 100 points in one game. Last Saturday night against the Warriors, Wilt set another record. He played the entire game and did not take a shot, scoring no points.

SCRIMMAGE AT ARMORY

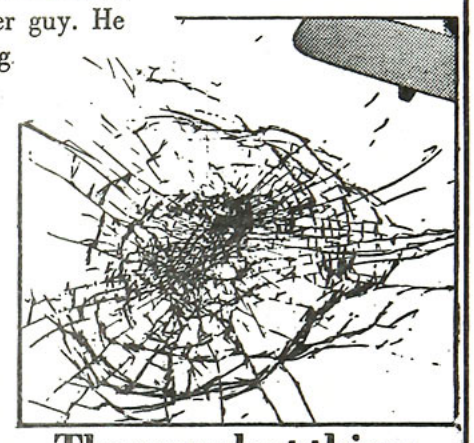
The Saint Leo Varsity Intrasquad Scrimmage is at the Dade City Armory on Friday, November 10, at 7:30 pm. All students and faculity as well as the public are invited.

The last thing Frank expected was someone running the stop sign.

Stop signs don't stop cars. Drivers stop cars. Make sure you do and make sure he has. There's very little satisfaction in being dead right when you're dead.

Wherever, whenever you drive . . . drive defensively. Watch out for the other guy. He may be the kind who'll stop at nothing.

Watch out for the Other Guy.



The very last thing.
